

Three ways out of dead stock.

IN PARTNERSHIP WITH RX DIRECT SOLUTIONS

Scan an item to unpack the QR code to render lot, serial and expiration, and cap the return policy database to reveal expected credit amounts and the dates items can be returned to the manufacturer.

HIGH VALUE

Return now to the manufacturer

The item qualifies today and the credit is worth claiming. Process the bucket and the full return kit is generated for you.

LOW VALUE

Return direct to the reverse distributor

Items below the value ceiling go straight to the reverse distributor. The credit is not worth the time spent bagging and boxing them.

NOT READY YET

Wait for the next action date — or sell it

Not eligible until a future date. Hold it until then, or use the window to list it on InStockRx for sale.

We take care of the paperwork.

Once a high value return is processed, the pharmacy receives the full packet within about two days: packaging and shipping instructions, the return authorization, the debit memo, and an insured shipping label.

Staff sorts into baggies, attaches the label, and drops the memo in the box. That is the whole job.

Expired Returns — Packaging & Shipping Instructions

Do not ship without following these steps

1. Sort and package

Confirm each item against the packing slip and place it in the baggie for that RMA. Ensure products are packaged to prevent damage.

2. Prepare documents

Print all pages in the packet. The shipping label goes on the outside of the box. Debit memo and RMA barcode go inside.

3. Box and ship

Place all return items in a sturdy box. Affix the carrier label and RMA barcode outside; seal the memo inside the baggie.

4. Ship carrier

Use FedEx or UPS only. Retain the tracking number for your records.

This box should contain

1 baggie for AbbVie Inc. · RMA 5778714 · 1 line item

Do not place this page inside the return box. Keep it for your records.

Failure to include the debit memo may delay or prevent credit issuance.
